Walteria Civic Group Boosts Home Community

Plans are under way by the Walteria Civic Organization to boost the attendance at the meetings of the group, set up to improve conditions along various lines in that community.

There is a two-fold purpose behind the concerted action to assure at least 25 or more at each meeting. One is the civic ideals of the organization to boost Walteria, improve streets, secure a hall for a meeting place or have the present one repaired, and get better school bus service. There is another good reason, too. The organization recently wanted to get ration points to buy meat for dinners if, and when, the W.C.O. decided to stage a steak feed. After a local merchant was appointed a committee of one to take the matter up with the ration board he reported back that the organization could have the stamps if members could guarantee an attendance of 25 or more.

Protests were submitted concerning the crowded condition of the Walteria Narbonne school buses, which, it was said, cannot adequately take care of the 82 pupils of that area. Paul Sloneker, president of the asso-

American Fighting Men Have Mercy for Italian Prisoners

This wounded Italian soldier was surprised when the Yank sailor not only brought him a drink of water, but held him while he drank it. Italians in Sicily had received hard knocks from the Germans and were surprised at the kind treatment extended them by the Allies.

This Italian soldier received an ugly shoulder wound in the fighting around St. Stefano, Sicily. An American fighting man dressed the wound for him. After the battle, unwounded Americans were busy giving first aid to both their own comrades and the enemy soldiers.

Walteria 'Secession' Report Branded as Having No Weight

An article printed in another county newspaper recently that an organized movement has been started at Walteria to withdraw from the incorporated limits of the city of Torrance was branded as having little weight in that community in a communication read before the city council from the Walteria Civic Assn.

The communication asserted that no members of the association had signed or circulated any petitions aimed at divorcing that area from the municipality of Torrance.

JAPS AT TULE LAKE

The first trainload of Japanese classified as "unsafe" by F. I. and War Relocation Administration authorities has arrived at the Tulelake Relocation Center, which by the end of September will house 20,000 Japanese under close military guard.

FURTHER LOSS FEARED

A further decline of about $5,000,000 in state highway revenues — if gasoline restrictions continue for another year — is expected by the Virginia State Highway department, the Automobile Club of Southern California learned this week.

WORMS DAMAGE CABBAGE

Cabbage growers have suffered considerable losses from heavy worm infestations this year. Some of these losses have occurred because of too few or inadequate treatments, particularly on young plants.

OIL CONSUMPTION

Common causes of excessive oil consumption in the average passenger vehicle are worn cylinders or pistons, worn piston rings or use of the wrong type of oil, cautions the emergency service department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

REPAIR COSTS SET

Repairs to roads in Manchester, Eng., after the war will cost approximately $6,650,000, according to estimates prepared by the Municipal Highway department recently received by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

WARNING TO CYCLISTS

The police department warns bicyclists not to hitch onto the rear end of trucks. It is a dangerous practice. Sudden starts or stops may catch the rider off balance and dislodge him, leading to serious results. Besides the traffic laws prohibit such practices.

THE CANDID CAMERA REPORTS THE NEWS OF STANDARD OF CALIFORNIA

Crystal Gazer

Peering through a quartz window into the combustion chamber of a running engine, this Standard of California technician can actually see how a new gasoline will behave in your motor. He will check it for speed and smoothness of combustion so that when Standard Gasoline goes into your car's tank you'll get "Unsurpassed" power and performance.
